

Charitable Remainder Trusts

A gift of trust is made when you decide to make Health Sciences North the secondary beneficiary to an irrevocable trust. The primary beneficiary (or the income beneficiary) includes you, and if applicable, your spouse. Throughout your lifetime or for a stated period of time you will receive a predetermined amount of the trust; upon death the Foundation will receive the remainder of the trust.

We urge you to consult a professional advisor to explore these and other planned giving options.
